

FS data

www.fsdata.se

Helsingborg, Sweden, 2013-02-15

FS Data (<http://fsdata.se>) is one of the oldest and largest web hosting companies in Sweden. We provide hosting, domain names, email and servers to tens of thousands of customers in Sweden and Norway, through our sister company ISPHuset (<http://isphuset.no>).

FS Data has been offering support for Python to our customers since 2006 (<http://goo.gl/oLT2I>). Today we have hundreds of customers running thousands of Python based applications in our hosting environment. We also base parts of our own developed hosting system on Python.

FS Data recognize Python as a solution only coming from the Python Software Foundation (PSF). This surely applies to most of our customers using Python as well.

If the PSF are to be denied their right to use Python as a name/brand in Europe, this would cause a lot of confusion and possible disturbances in our services. We therefore strongly support PSF in their opposal of the community trademark application of Python.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Jonathan Sulo'.

Jonathan Sulo, FS Data